Surgical Waiting List Survey

An invitation to discussion groups

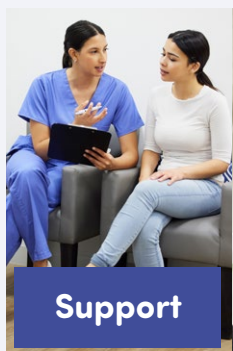

My name is Judy Gosmore.

I work for Healthwatch Bristol.

Healthwatch Bristol is working on a project about surgery waiting lists in the North Bristol NHS Hospitals.

I want to find out ways to improve the support and information people get while they are waiting for surgery.

Many people have already filled in our survey.

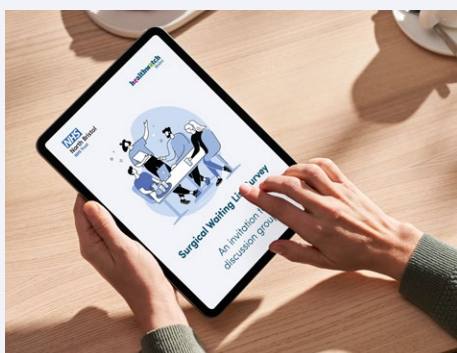

Group discussion

I now want to invite you to a group discussion about what people have said in the survey.

If you have already taken part in our online survey, I want to know more about your experience.

If you have not, there is still time to take part.

Please read this leaflet to find out how.

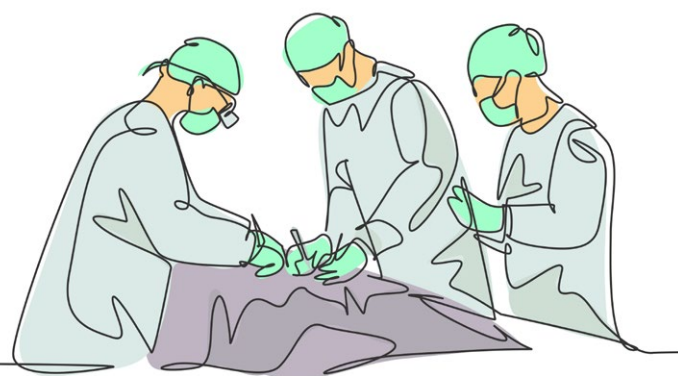

Let us know what you think

Your voice is very important to us.

What you tell us can help improve the experience of people on a waiting list.
